

St Mary's Cemetery (Clark Hill Cemetery)

Go north on Route 118 from Canaan Village for 4.1 miles, and turn onto Stevens Road on the left. At 1.3 miles the main road turns left—the road ahead is named Lary Pond Road. Go just 0.2 mile further and then turn right onto a dirt road with no sign. Follow this road for 0.6 miles, until, shortly after a house above the road on the left, there will be an unmaintained road to the left. The white rail fence around the cemetery can be seen 0.1 mile into the woods.

Or another way to reach this cemetery, off Interstate 89 take exit 17. Follow Route 4 through Enfield to Canaan. Proceed to the Village. Turn left onto Canaan Street, then take a right onto Fernwood Farms Road. Follow this road several miles and it will lead to Clark Hill Road (on the left). Clark Hill Road is a dirt road. The cemetery is about 1/2 mile down the road on the left side. There is no sign for the cemetery and it's far off the road (you'll be able to see part of the white fence if you look down the driveways).

The white rail fence can be seen from the road.

The DeCato family donated the land for the parishioners of St. Mary's church.

All photos taken September 28, 2002 by Michelle McKenzie (nhroots@capital.net) and family.

I believe this is all of the readable stones from the cemetery. I had intended to photograph just a few and then ended up doing the whole cemetery. If you have photos of any stones which I missed, please email them to me and I'll update this listing.

There was a separate section in the cemetery, under the trees, with a stone wall around it. I did not climb into that area. There was only one old faint stone standing and several others leaning against the fence in this section.
